INTRODUCTION

One of the keys to limiting damage caused by fire is the response time. NFPA 1710 sets a goal for all fire departments to respond to a fire within 6 minutes. Response time is defined as the time from when a 911 call is first received to the time a fire truck arrives on scene. Part of this 6-minute window is 1 minute for dispatch time. Fire and ambulance agencies are dispatched from a dispatch center. Some people believe that all 911 calls go directly to their local dispatch center rather than to a central location. Basic 911 Service is an emergency telephone system that automatically connects 911 callers to a Public Safety Answering Point (PSAP). Enhanced-911 service does the same plus shows the caller's name, street address, and telephone number to the PSAP. This allows the PSAP to identify the caller's location automatically if the caller is unable to communicate this information verbally to the PSAP call taker. Enhanced-911 services are paid for by a monthly user fee on all telephones (land and wireless). The surcharge varies from State to State. In New England the surcharges are:

- $0.70 surcharge per phone line per month in Connecticut.
- $0.45 surcharge per phone line per month in Maine.
- $0.75 surcharge per phone line per month in Massachusetts.
- $0.57 surcharge per phone line per month in New Hampshire.
- $1.00 surcharge per wired phone line and $1.26 surcharge per wireless phone line per month in Rhode Island.
- 911 services and four other programs are funded through the Universal Service Fund in Vermont.

All calls to 911 are routed to the appropriate PSAP. Police and fire calls are immediately transferred to the appropriate local dispatch center. For medical emergencies, the appropriate EMS responder is called but the PSAP stays on the line providing appropriate emergency medical instructions while waiting for the responder to arrive.

There are almost 23,700 dispatch centers in the United States of which 6,874<sup>1</sup> are PSAP centers. Many of these dispatch centers are regional dispatch centers serving multiple agencies and this is also true in some of the New England States.

- Vermont once had 53 primary PSAPs but that has been reduced to six primary PSAPs located throughout the State: St. Albans City PD, Hartford PD, Shelburne PD, Westminster VSP, Williston VSP, and the Lamoille CSO. Many of these PSAPs also function as a local dispatch center.
- In 2008, Maine reduced the number of PSAPs from 48 to 26. This was not done without controversy but this document is not going to look at that issue. Maine is now looking to further consolidate the number of PSAPs from 26 down to 17. Many of these PSAPs also function as a local dispatch center.
- In Rhode Island, there is one PSAP but it does not function as a local dispatch center. Most towns have their own local dispatch center.
- New Hampshire has one primary PSAP located at the Department of Safety in Concord and a secondary PSAP in Laconia. New Hampshire and Rhode Island are the only states to have consolidated their PSAPs into one location. The PSAP does not function as a local dispatch center.
- Connecticut has 107 PSAPs, many of which function as a local dispatch center.
- Massachusetts has 254 PSAPs with most communities acting as their own PSAP (and local dispatch center) except in Berkshire County.

Regionalization Discussions

MA:

- Easton, Foxborough, Mansfield, and Norton vote for regional dispatch center to open in 2019.
- Franklin, Norfolk, Plainville, and Wrentham forming Metacomet Regional PSAP/dispatch center with a projected opening in 2017.
- Middlesex Sheriff's Office concluded a feasibility study in 2010 that recommended the consolidation of emergency call centers. A new grant has been granted to form a regional dispatch center to include Lynnfield, Melrose, North Reading, Reading, Stoneham, and Wakefield as well as the Middlesex CSO.
- Southeastern Regional Planning and Economic Development District publishes report recommending consolidation of PSAP/dispatch services into two PSAP/dispatch centers. The western RECC would service Berkley, Dighton, Fall River, Raynam, Swanzea, and Taunton. The eastern RECC would service Acushnet, Dartmouth, Fairhaven, Freetown, Lakeville, Marion, Middleborough, New Bedford, and Wareham.
- Northern Middlesex Council of Governments just completed a feasibility study to form the Greater Lowell Regional Emergency Communications Center for Billerica, Chelmsford, Dracut, Dunstable, Lowell, Pepperell, Tewksbury, Tyngsborough, and Westford.
- Norfolk County Control Communications has received a grant to perform a feasibility study for a regional communications center for Avon, Medway, Milton, Randolph, Stoughton, Walpole, Westwood, Weymouth, and Wrentham.
- Bridgewater, East Bridgewater, Kingston, Plymouth form study committee to explore regional PSAP/dispatch center.
- Amherst, Belchertown, Hadley, Ludlow, Pelham, UMass, Ware, and Wilbraham form study committee to explore regional PSAP/dispatch center.
- Bridgewater and East Bridgewater apply for grant to explore regional PSAP/dispatch center.
- Monson, Palmer, Ware, and Warren are exploring the creation of a regional communications center.
- Ashland, Framingham, Holliston, Hopkinton, Natick, Sherborn, Sudbury, and Wayland have received a grant to determine if a regional dispatch center makes sense for these towns.
- Chicopee, Holyoke, Longmeadow, Springfield, West Springfield, and East Longmeadow are conducting a feasibility study for a, regional dispatch center.

Dispatch Centers in New England

- Chelsea, Everett, Medford, Melrose, and Somerville are conducting a feasibility study for a regional dispatch center.
- Burlington, Stoneham, Winchester, and Woburn are conducting a feasibility study for a regional dispatch center.

Connecticut

- East Lyme, New London, and Waterford conducting feasibility study for regional dispatch center through WECC.

Connecticut PSAP Centers

PSAP Centers are funded from the 911 surcharge. The 911 surcharge pays for 911 computers, software, maintenance, connectivity, training and other 911-specific issues, but not the call takers to operate the equipment. However, the PSAP Centers also dispatch for the indicated towns so the cost for the call takers is included in the cost for dispatch services. In addition, the 911 surcharge is used to pay for subsidies to regional dispatch centers, cities, and CMEDs.

Dispatch Centers in New England

Connecticut Fire/EMS Dispatch Centers

Connecticut has four fire-only regional dispatch centers: Northwest Public Safety, Tolland County Mutual Aid Fire Service, Quinebaug Valley Emergency Communications, and Valley Shore Emergency Communications. Groton operates the only consolidated (police-fire-EMS) Regional Dispatch Center in Connecticut. While Willimantic Fire Switchboard is primarily a fire-only regional dispatch center, it also dispatches for the Willimantic police department. Litchfield County Dispatch had been a fire-only dispatch center but recently began dispatching the Torrington police department.

The remaining PSAP Centers may serve one or two communities, may or may not serve multiple emergency services (police-fire-EMS) and may or may not dispatch all of the emergency services within a given municipality. For example, Ledyard provides fire and EMS dispatch for the towns of Ledyard and Preston while police dispatch for both communities is the responsibility of the Connecticut State Police. Stonington provides dispatch services for the town's police department but fire and EMS dispatch are split between three dispatch centers – Stonington PD, Groton Emergency Communications and Westerly RI Dispatch.

Connecticut CMED Centers

The State of Connecticut is divided into five (5) EMS Regions containing a total of eleven (11) Coordinated Medical Emergency Dispatch (CMED) centers, which establishes radio contact between the ambulance and the hospital. This allows the EMT to talk with emergency personnel at the hospital to coordinate care (somewhat similar to what we saw with the TV show “Emergency” back in the early 1970s). The various CMEDs are connected together using MEDNET (similar to a ham radio?) and this is used to coordinate emergency medical resources for Mass Casualty Incidents. The CMED Centers also operate a satellite network MEDSAT, which is coordinated through the Connecticut Department of Public Health. This system links all of the hospitals, ambulance transport, the State Office of Emergency Management, all the CMED centers, and the Department of Public Health together.

Maine PSAP Centers

PSAP Centers are partially funded from the 911 surcharge. The 911 surcharge pays for 911 computers, software, maintenance, connectivity, training and other 911-specific issues, but not the call takers to operate the equipment. Therefore, an additional fee may or may not be assessed by the individual PSAP centers to cover the costs of the call taker. If there is a fee, it will be shown in the dispatch center table showing the formula used to assess dispatch fees.

Massachusetts CMED Centers

The State of Massachusetts is divided into five (5) EMS Regions containing a total of seven (7) Central Medical Emergency Direction (CMED) centers, which establishes radio contact between the ambulance and the hospital. This allows the EMT to talk with emergency personnel at the hospital to coordinate care (somewhat similar to what we saw with the TV show “Emergency” back in the early 1970s). The various CMEDs are connected together using radio towers throughout the State and this is used to coordinate emergency medical resources for Mass Casualty Incidents. The CMED Centers are coordinated through the Connecticut Department of Public Health. This system links all of the hospitals, ambulance transport, the State Office of Emergency Management, all the CMED centers, and the Department of Public Health together.

New Hampshire Police Dispatch Centers

There are several police departments that do not provide 24/7 coverage. Some dispatch themselves by day and the County Sheriff's office by night. Some are dispatched by the County Sheriff's Office at all times. Towns without 24/7 coverage, handle emergency calls differently when there is no officer on-duty. Some have the County Sheriff's office as the primary responder, some have the State Police; some have the off-duty and on-call officers summoned, and some have the neighboring community respond. In any event, for these police departments, they are shown as dispatched by the County Sheriff's office. The exception to this is in Sullivan County. The Sullivan County Sheriff's Department does not provide dispatch services for its county towns because it does not provide 24-hour service. The Newport police department dispatches the Sheriff's Department after hours at no charge. During the day, the Sullivan County Sheriff's department dispatches itself.

Vermont PSAP Centers

Originally, the intention was to have 911 calls geographically dispersed, meaning that 911 calls received in Rutland and surrounding areas, would be routed to Rutland. Vermont’s E9-1-1 Operating System has transitioned over the past seven years to have an IP based 9-1-1 operating system.

Today, a 911 call in Vermont is answered by an employee at one of the 6 PSAP’s in Vermont. There is no longer a complete reliance on the geographic location of the call. This proved beneficial for the State when tropical storm Irene hit as one of the PSAP centers had to be evacuated. The calls that would normally have been answered at the evacuated PSAP were routed to another PSAP.

The PSAP centers are funded from the Universal Service Fund. The 911 surcharge pays for 911 computers, software, maintenance, connectivity, training and other 911-specific issues, The surcharge is also used to provide a per position reimbursement of $45,000.

Vermont Police Dispatch Centers

The following table shows those municipalities with a police department. The other municipalities rely on the Vermont State Police and the County Sheriff's Office for police protection. State law mandates the State Police to provide police services to towns without a police department.

- The Vermont State Police provides dispatch services for Newport City on weekends and dispatch services for Middlebury on Sundays and weeknights.

Berlin, Northfield, Richmond, Swanton, Waterbury, Williston, Grand Isle CSO Constable: Cabot, Richford, Warren, Worcester	Williston VSP

State statutes require all towns to have an elected constable. The duties of the constable vary from town to town. Many Vermont towns have one or more constables as their chief law enforcement officers but this means the constable only has the power to serve civil process, destroy animals, kill injured deer, assist the health officer in the discharge of his or her duties, remove disorderly people from town meeting, and collect taxes if no tax collector is elected. For serious crimes and pursuing criminals, it appears that the towns contract with either the County Sheriff or the Vermont State Police or both.
